SOCIAL WORKERS ONLY FADDISTS

Sam Gompers Berates Society
Women Who Seek to Better Conditions.

(By Federal Wireless Telegraph.)
NEW YORK, January 29.—(Special to The Advertiser)—Bitter denunciation by President Samuel Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, of the proposed compulsory arbitration law marked the session of the convention of the National Civic Federation here today.

In the presence of many society women interested in social work, Gompers dubbed the society workers "dilettantes and faddists who go in for sociological and slumming expeditions and then walk on the other side of the street from these people."

"We do not intend to consider," Gompers said, "and to permit the enactment of laws limiting and preventing the exercise of rights endowed on us by God and nature and country. I agree that it is desirable to prevent strikes, but I do not think you will escape them by making perfectly normal conditions unlawful. You may compress steam for awhile, but later you will have an explosion."

JAPANESE APPARENTLY WAS LEFT TO HIS FATE

Badly injured and unable to give his name to the police, a Japanese was found last night on upper Nuuanu avenue, just below the end of the car line, and sent to the Queen's Hospital for medical treatment.

Officer Kelielt was informed that a man was lying near the sidewalk at the locality named and he promptly set out to investigate. The Japanese was found almost unconscious and badly injured. He had either crawled to the side of the road or some one had moved him there. About the car track and near the injured man was scattered considerable broken glass, which the police believe was from an automobile headlight.

Officer Chilton was sent out directly after this to make an investigation, as the police believe the man was run down by a machine and left to his fate on the road.

(By Federal Wireless Telegraph.)
LONDON, January 29.—(Special to The Advertiser)—"Not one cent of tribute will I pay to a man's government."

This was the stand taken by Mrs. Flora Drummond, militant suffragette, when convicted of disorderly conduct and malicious destruction of property and fined $10, in the Bow street police court here today.

Other suffragettes under similar charges announced they would take the same stand. When ordered to jail for fourteen days, Mrs. Drummond declared she would institute a hunger strike, even if the strike resulted in her death. Other suffragettes concurred in this plan, unless they were classed as political prisoners.

Suffragettes last night continued demonstrations throughout London. Acid was poured into a score of letter

WIRELESS CROWN FOR KOKO HEAD

Most Powerful Station in the World to Be Erected by Marconi Company.

(From Thursday Advertiser)

The most powerful wireless station in the world will be completed on the island of Oahu within a year by the Marconi company, according to a statement made by N. H. Slaughter, resident engineer, who arrived yesterday from New York on the Manchuria to install the plant. Part of the machinery for the two stations which will form the sending and receiving plants is on the way and much of the equipment is now being assembled in various factories.

The company will install its receiving plant at Koko Head and the transmitting station at Kahuku. With these two high-powered stations the company will maintain continuous service day and night, and every day and night in the year, the plans having been prepared with a view to preserving a non-breakable system with equipment which will render the best service under the worst possible conditions.

Seven masts, each three hundred feet in height, will be erected at Koko Head, and thirteen of the same height at the Kahuku station. The aerials will extend over a distance of a mile. The power plant at Koko Head will be independent of Honolulu electric power and will give the engines a force of two thousand horsepower.

"Our station in Honolulu," said Mr. Slaughter, who is stopping at the Young Hotel, "will be the largest in the world although the Marconi company is planning stations for other parts of the world which may in time excel this one. It is designed to connect Honolulu with San Francisco for a continuous twenty-four-hour service."

"Part of our equipment has already been shipped from New York. Within a month C. H. Taylor, the English engineer, who is in general charge of all the Marconi high-power stations, will be here to look over the situation. Meanwhile we will have surveyors at work and all the leases and land matters connected with the installation of the plant will be ready."

"We expect to make a feature of prompt service. In other words to have messages on their way immediately and delivered to the addressee within the shortest possible space of time. We will have our land telegraph lines connecting the stations with the town offices."

JAPANESE RED TAPE UNWINDS SLOWLY

Detective Chief Still Waiting for Chance to Bring Absconder
Back from Kobe.

It is almost as difficult to extradite a criminal from Japan as it is for the proverbial camel to pass through the eye of a needle, according to those who are seeking to have G. T. Chong, defaulting cashier of the First National Bank of Hawaii, returned to Honolulu for trial.

Those interested in the case expected the prisoner, in charge of Chief of Detective Arthur McDuffie, to arrive here on the steamer Mongolia last Tuesday morning. Instead, came another letter from McDuffie saying that he was waiting instructions from the Japanese government as to whether that government would recognize the extradition papers forwarded to Washington.

In the meantime Chong is believed to be safe in jail at Kobe. McDuffie is also at Kobe and is keeping in as close touch as possible with the prisoner.

From what can be learned Chong is using some of the $51,000 he is accused of having stolen from the bank in securing comforts for himself while in jail, though he is not believed to be resisting extradition. The delay, it is said, is due entirely to the almost endless red tape and diplomatic methods used by the Japanese government in investigating the credentials of McDuffie and passing on the extradition papers for Chong forwarded by the United States government. This task may be accomplished at any time now, it is believed, and Chief McDuffie and his prisoner may arrive here early next month.

WILL SEE IF FILIPINOS
DESIRE INDEPENDENCE

Bishop Samuel Fallows, D.D., presiding bishop and president of the general council of all the Reformed Episcopal churches in the United States and Canada, passed through Honolulu yesterday on the Manchuria on his way to the Philippines. He will remain there about two months, and will make a general inspection of religious, sociological, political and penological conditions. Bishop Fallows is especially interested in penology through being president of the board of managers of the Illinois State Reformatory, a position he has held for twenty-one years. He has been president of the Western University of Illinois. He wants to ascertain public opinion in the Philippines as to the question of Philippine independence and to learn whether this may be done immediately or at some remote time. During the Civil War he was chaplain of the Thirty-second Wisconsin volunteers and was chaplain-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic in 1907-08.

Fred L. Waldron, of the Waldron Company, left yesterday for the mainland to be absent several weeks.

STRIKE CERTAIN TO COME NOW

Inter-Island Reject Proffer of Harbor to Help Select the Incompetents.

HARBOR ATTACKS COMPANY

Walk-out "Inevitable" Is Report from Captains Last Night—
May Come Today.

(From Thursday Advertiser)

From all that could be learned of the attitude of the captains and mates in the employ of the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company last night, and the attitude of the officials of the company, a strike on the part of the former will be formally declared before the end of the week, very possibly today. Just what preparation the company has made to meet this threatened strike when it comes is not definitely known, but that the Inter-Island will not be found so completely at the mercy of its skippers and mates this time as it was a few months ago, when the first strike occurred, may be taken as certain. Yesterday Inter-Island stock bids were at 150, ten points below Tuesday's offers and fifty-two below the last recorded sale.

Events moved rapidly yesterday. The directors of the company met and decided to refuse explicitly to confer with the members of Honolulu Harbor 54 in the matter of dismissals for cause and declined the offer of the harbor to "arbitrate" in the matter of dismissals.

The harbor, through its committee, consisting of Captains Tullett, Oness and Olsson and their legal advisers, Judge Humphreys and C. W. Ashford, held a conference, the first fruits of which was the issuing of a letter addressed to the public, warning travelers of alleged conditions aboard the Inter-Island vessels. Later, a reply to the company's letter was prepared, the terms of which reply are as bitter as could well be penned.

No member of the committee would make any formal statement for publication, but there was no hesitation among them about saying that a walk-out on the part of the captains and mates is inevitable and will come at once.

Company Refuses Demands.

Following a meeting of the Inter-Island directors yesterday morning, the following letter was sent to the committee of the harbor:

"Gentlemen:—The board of directors of the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company, Limited, at a meeting specially called for the purpose, has given most careful consideration to the communication of your committee, dated January 27, 1913, and addressed to us by authority of a resolution adopted by your harbor on that date. In that letter and resolution you request us to enter into an agreement with your harbor and with its present and future members during the life of such proposed agreement to the effect that no member of your harbor shall against his will be dismissed from employment by this company unless (1) by order of the United States Inspectors empowered to act in the premises; (2) the party sought to be dismissed shall admit the justice of his dismissal; or (3) such dismissal shall be approved by arbitrators, one of whom shall be appointed by the harbor, one by this company, and the third in such manner might be provided in such proposed agreement."

"The communication referred to practically constitutes a demand that the company be compelled to keep in its employment masters and mates, unless their discharge be permitted by others than officers of the company. No refinement of the language of the resolution of your harbor, or the letter of your committee based thereon, can lead to any other conclusion."

"After due discussion and deliberation, the directors of the company feel that the demand made by you cannot be acceded to, and will briefly state their reasons therefor."

Duty to Public.

"As a corporation, the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company owes a duty to both its stockholders and the public. Exercising, as it does, powers of a quasi-public nature, the duties owed to the public should be and are paramount, and any rights to which the stockholders might otherwise be entitled should be set aside where strict observance of them would conflict with the rights of the public. Where, however, a given course of action not only satisfies responsibility to both stockholders and the public, but is of such a nature that failure to follow it could rightfully be treated as a violation of duty to both, we feel forced to adopt that course."

"Waiving any rights of any nature whatsoever which stockholders may have, it seems to us that we could not carry out our obligations to the public by permitting your harbor to insist upon its demands. The negligence in damage to person or property, is in law attributable to the company. The same negligence, resulting in poor public service, is by the public where strict observance of them would conflict with the rights of the public. For injury, either to a particular individual or to the public generally, the company, and the company alone, is held responsible. It
